Updates from the Governors

Tea with the Governors!

Thank you for letting us know via the parent survey that you would like more opportunities to talk to the Governors. Groups of Governors will be in school during both of the forthcoming Parent Consultation afternoons, from 2:30-5:30, on April 27th and May 4th. We will be in the Hall; please pop in at any time during the parent consultations and join us for a conversation and a cup of tea!

There will also be an evening meeting with a group of Governors later next term, for those parents who aren't able to be in school during the school day. Details will follow in the newsletter.

New Parent Governor

The Governors are delighted to welcome Mr Mirco Meniconi, dad of Paolo in Class 1 and a senior scientist in the pharmaceutical research sector, who has been elected unopposed as our new Parent Governor. Mirco has joined Chloe Wilson as a Parent Governor.

Parent Survey

At its meeting last night, the Full Governing Body received and considered the feedback you offered via the parent survey. The Governors and Headteacher found the feedback and suggestions extremely useful and have decided to produce a detailed response, also in consultation with the staff, summarising the conclusions of the survey, explaining ongoing actions, and setting out further actions to be taken next term and next academic year. Your responses on the quality of the teaching and support were particularly encouraging, recognising the excellent work that goes on across the school. You have also made suggestions for how the school could be further improved, particularly in terms of strengthening communication across the school communities, and we are exploring ways of doing this. We will circulate a fuller response by the end of this term. In the meantime, please continue to offer ideas.

Thank you again for engaging so well with the survey. The two pictures below are based on the top-100 frequent words in the responses to the two survey questions asking for your and your children's favourite things about our school (parents' responses on the left, children's on the right). They are very important to us because they tell us about some of the things that you value in our school and on which we are keen to build as we think about our shared vision for the school's future.
