

From the Governors

A warm thank you to all the parents who came to meet us this term, both during the parents' afternoons, and at yesterday's fabulous May Day Fair. It was great to be able to talk with so many current and prospective parents, children and grandparents. Your choices and comments on the school's priorities for next year were greatly appreciated – there is already a clear sense of shared priorities. During yesterday's consultative exercise you told us about the importance of a strong partnership between staff, governors, parents and children, with a shared vision and effective mechanisms of communication and consultation throughout. We'll update you next term on the selection of priorities that will feed into next year's School Development Plan and into our vision statement.

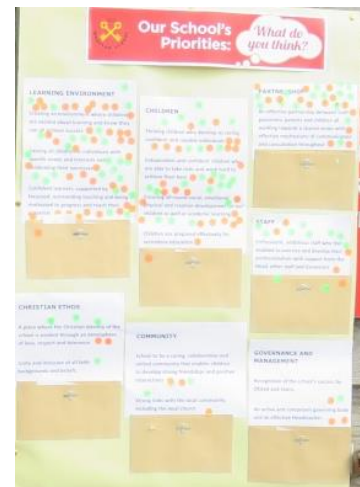

Please check the Governors' page on the website for more details of who the Governors are, what they do, and their committees. We will have some vacancies at the end of next term, so do consider becoming part of this group of dedicated volunteers.

Many thanks to the FOWS and volunteers, Mrs Rose, the teachers, teaching assistants, and other school staff for everything they did to make yesterday such a successful event. It was lovely to see Mrs Godfrey crowning the May Queen and King!

The children should be very proud of their wonderful dancing, flowers, and games. We were all very impressed!

Enjoy the bank holiday sunshine and the well-deserved half term.
