

Victorian Trip

On Wednesday we went to Oxford Museum (Woodstock). We had a Victorian class. We had to write with a fountain pen. When the ink ran out, we had to dip our pen in a pot of ink to be able to write again. When we wrote we had to write, in copperplate handwriting. They gave the girls white aprons and the boys were given navy collars. After that, we went in the museum to have a look around. We went in the Victorian section some people dressed up and others pretended to flush the toilet.

By Erin, Eve and Yasmine

